New Reliquary for St Oliver (Pictured)

The new reliquary for St Oliver's femur bone has now been beautifully crafted in Dublin. It is made of brass, the centre is glass and it has arrived safely in Oldcastle. In a formal ceremony, Bishop Deenihan will oversee the transfer of the relic to its new home. He will break the seals of the old shrine, examine the relic, and reverently seal it once more within the new reliquary. We warmly thank all who have contributed so generously towards this project. For anyone who may still wish to be associated with the reliquary project, your contribution would be most welcome and deeply appreciated. Special envelopes are available in the church; please write your name on them. Together, we are ensuring that St Oliver's witness of courage and fidelity to the faith will continue to inspire generations to come.
